

TINLEY PARK FESTIVAL OPENS FRIDAY

Urge Drivers To Use
Care Over Week-End;
Predict 410 Will Die

With the long Labor Day week end coming up which will see millions of cars on the nation's highways, safety experts join in urging the motoring public to use the utmost care to avoid death and injury.

The Association of Casualty and Safety companies believes the toll will be lighter this Labor Day than it has since 1950 but the anticipated number of deaths is still too high, they agree.

The Association, which believes the current "Slow Down and Live" safety campaign will reduce the number of traffic tragedies over the Labor Day week end, predicts 410 persons will die on the highways in the course of the 78-hour holiday coming up.

Specifically, the Association forecast ascribed the 410 expected deaths to these causes: 135 fatalities due to excessive speed; 65 deaths from driving on the wrong side of the road; 42 from reckless driving; 39 from failure to yield the right-of-way; and 29 from falling asleep at the wheel.

Expect 2500 Injured
The remaining 100 deaths will include 35 pedestrians who attempted to cross the street between intersections, 10 who stepped into the street from behind parked cars and 55 fatalities from miscellaneous actions of drivers and pedestrians.

In addition to these traffic deaths, over 22,000 drivers and passengers, plus some 3,200 pedestrians, are feared likely to suffer personal injuries. At least one out of every four drivers or pedestrians involved in a fatal accident will have been drinking alcohol immediately before the accident, the Association said.

Concerning the holiday forecast, Thomas N. Boats, manager of the Association's accident prevention department, said:

"The expected reduction directly reflects the reduced traffic toll experienced during this summer's nationwide 'Slow Down and Live' campaign. While slight, the decrease is significant. It gives motorists added hope that their cooperation with mass, coordinated safety programs can lower the traffic toll."

Gives 10 Rules
"The Labor Day week end begins officially at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 2 and ends at midnight on the following Monday. It is the nation's third three-day holiday this year and there is every reason to believe that with the help of motorists, it can also be the safest. Courtesy, caution and cooperation should be the watchwords for safe Labor Day week end driving."

Danny Eames, chief test driver for one of the automobile companies lists what he calls the "Big Ten" rules for safety.

1. Traffic regulations are for your protection. Observe them.
2. Keep a safe distance between yourself and the car ahead, particularly at higher speeds.
3. Stay in your own lane on hills, curves, and in "no-passing" zones.
4. If driving at night, dim your lights to oncoming traffic.
5. The right of way may rightfully belong to you, but if a pedestrian comes along, give it to him. (And that doesn't mean "Let him have it!")
6. Always be on the alert for children!
7. Know the proper hand or direction signals and be sure to use them!
8. Watch where you're going, and where the cars behind, ahead, and on both sides are going.
9. Give the other fellow more than his share of the road and watch him!
10. Regulate speed to road conditions, rather than posted speed limits.

John A. Ball, 56,
Dies In Car, Of Heart Attack

John A. Ball, 56 years old, 93rd and Lincoln highway, Frankfort township, died suddenly early Tuesday morning, apparently of a heart attack, while driving to his work at South Holland. He was alone in the car at the time. He collapsed over the wheel and his automobile veered off the pavement and struck a tree. The incident occurred on 159th st., near Chicago road, Cook county according to George DeYoung, driver of a milk truck, who was traveling in back of the Ball car. DeYoung stopped and seeing that Ball had collapsed, called police.

Ball was removed to Ingalls Memorial hospital at Harvey, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

A native of Missouri, Mr. Ball had been a resident of Frankfort since World War II. Previously he had resided at Joliet. He was a boilermaker and welder by trade.

Mr. Ball was a member of St. John lodge, A.F. and A.M. of Hannibal, Mo. He was a deacon in the Parkview Baptist church now under construction in Mokena, and it was his custom to work there most of his leisure moments. His pastor, the Rev. Arthur Contois, described Mr. Ball as a fine man and citizen.

There is no history of Mr. Ball having suffered a previous heart attack and those who knew him say that he remarked several times lately on how well he felt.

Mr. Ball is survived by his wife, Daisy, to whom he was married 37 years ago, five sons, Donald and John A. Jr., of Frankfort; George and William, of Joliet; and Charles of New Lenox; one brother George, and two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Thurston, St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Venus Ball, Hannibal, Mo.

Removal was to the Sonntag funeral home, 221 Herkimer st., Joliet, where friends may call this afternoon and evening, between 2 and 5 and 7 and 9 p.m. Matteson lodge, of Joliet, will conduct Masonic services at the funeral home tonight at 8 o'clock.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon (Friday) at 2 o'clock at the Ridgewood Baptist church in Joliet, with the Rev. Mr. Contois officiating. Burial is to be in the Woodlawn Memorial Park cemetery, Joliet.

Frankfort Queen
Thrilled With
New York Trip

Miss Diane Hochberger, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A. J. Hochberger of Frankfort returned Tuesday morning from New York after completing a trip and tour that Miss Hochberger was awarded when she was chosen queen of the Frankfort centennial.

They left by plane last Thursday morning, the round trip being a gift of TWA. Their stay at the Waldorf Astoria hotel and tours were the gifts of The Shopping Bag, the new super mart at Mokena thru its proprietor, Ralph Thoresen.

In speaking of the trip and tour Diane said her visit to America's first city was thrilling beyond all expectation. They visited the Empire State building, the United Nations, Rockefeller center, Radio City music hall, NBC radio and television center, a CBS television show in production, saw Central park from a carriage, Manhattan shore and skyline from a yacht and Chinatown, business and residential section from a bus. They especially enjoyed the musical, "Arabian Nights" presented by Guy Lombardo and his orchestra which starred Lauritz Melchior at the Marine theatre at Jones beach.

Speaking of the stores and buildings in New York, Diane said, even though they are fabulous, it costs no more to window shop there than at home. After all this wonderful trip, Diane is more grateful than ever for this wonderful opportunity which she received.

tended classes at the Chicago National Association of Dance Masters school, of which she is a graduate. Diane McCleary and Janet Wise also performed recently in the Bal Tabarin at the Sherman hotel, doing "Sylvester and Tweetie Pie." Mrs. Minuth appeared there and also on another program, "The Swedish Hambo."

Strake is to be at the store at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to greet fans and give autographs. On Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Little Oscar, sometimes hailed in the trade as Mr. Frankfurter, is to make his appearance.

Ralph Thoresen, owner and operator of "The Shopping Bag" and his crew of workmen performed herculean tasks to have the store ready for opening Thursday. To celebrate the opening, Thoresen will give away numerous favors these first three days. He is handling standard brands in all lines and everything is self-service. All of his 10 employees are residents of Mokena.

Zoning Case;
Starts Building

The Will county board of supervisors has made final ruling in favor of Alexander Duncan, Mokena contractor, in a zoning case, thus putting an end to a controversy that began last June.

As a result of the board's ruling Duncan broke ground yesterday for a building to house the Ronan Radio and TV Center. This building will front on Wolf rd. and in addition to the store proper, a ranch type home also is to be erected, adjoining the shop. The cost of the project will be approximately $35,000. The Dennis Ronan family will occupy the home. The store is now on Mokena's front street.

Began Last June

Last June Mr. Duncan petitioned to have lots 1 to 5 on Wolf road, beginning at LaPorte rd., and running south, classified as commercial property.

There were a few objectors but the zoning board of appeals which conducted the hearing granted the petition, pointing out that most of the nearby improvements were designed for business. Julian Perry, an attorney who represented the objectors, carried the fight to the county board and that body turned the case back to the zoning board for further study.

When the county board met on Tuesday of this week the zoning commission made the same recommendation that it had previously, that the lots in question be classified as business property and the supervisors concurred.

Taken More Permits

Mr. Duncan said he has taken out permits for three more stores in the location and added that they would cost a total of approximately $50,000.

Duncan also took out permits recently for seven homes, five of them in Parkview and two on a new subdivision which he has opened on old Wolf road, south of Mokena, where he has 22 lots, most of which are wooded.

The two homes in this new subdivision, known as Duncan Acres, are to be of ranch type and will cost approximately $20,000 each. Three of the houses in Parkview are ranch type homes and two are of the kind known as tri-level. The five will range in price, Duncan said, from $19,000 to $26,000.

Fire Victim Of Whiting Takes
Refuge in Mokena

Eleven-year-old Raylene Morris of Whiting, who was visiting an uncle and aunt in Mokena, and Mrs. Raymond Morris, and thus escaped the harrowing experiences that followed the explosive fire in the Standard Oil refinery at Whiting, was joined Monday by her sister, Mary Ann, 13, who with her parents and a young cousin was forced to flee to escape the flames last Saturday morning.

The blaze began with an explosion at 6:14 a. m. Saturday that was felt for miles around, including Mokena and Joliet, and the Morris family, whose home was at 2812 Berry ave., in Whiting was but a block from the refinery. Mary Ann, her parents, and a young cousin, 5-year old Clarence Grace who was visiting the Morris home, were hurried out of their beds and showered with plaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris grabbed their children and fled. They were all treated for cuts and bruises and Mr. Morris was hospitalized with a foot injury. The Grace boy had a gash on his left leg that required six stitches and a 4-stitch scalp wound.

The Morris' have a married daughter, Mrs. Glenn Brown, who lived half a block from them. The Browns escaped unhurt, although some solid object came flying thru their bedroom, breaking the wall, near the crib occupied by their 3 month old child. Both houses were badly damaged.

The first explosion was felt by several people in Mokena. George Dath reported the shock and at the David Noble store some of the merchandise was knocked from the shelves. The dog in the Martin Medema household, 144th and Front sts., awoke the family by sounding off with yelps as if frightened. Mr. Medema noted the time—6:15.

The pall of black smoke that hung over Whiting all of Saturday was plainly visible in Mokena and New Lenox.

FRANKFORT SCHOOL
Frankfort public school will open Tuesday, Sept. 6 with registration starting at 1 p.m. The annual book sale will be held from 1:30 to 3:30.

Everyone is crediting the Powers that be of the Tinley Park Fall Festival, with making some kind of a special arrangement with the weather man, to shut off the extreme heat that has been hovering over this area for the past two months, and bring in pleasant, mild weather over the Labor Day long weekend. Anyway, that is what many are planning to celebrate the lovely weather, by attending the festival in Tinley Park.

The committee of the Recreation commission, which is sponsoring the festival has been working hard, during extreme hot weather when people did not feel like working hard, to get ready for the annual affair. Anyway, everything is ready for the big festival and it will open on time tomorrow evening Sept. 2 at Memorial Park. So many things are scheduled that it is most impossible to mention all—one will just have to attend to find out.

Have Exhibits
One of the interesting sections will be a large tent where in the merchants and organizations will have displays and free gifts. There will be many booths on the ground, manned by local organizations, and of course there will be the rides, the most important ones being the ferris wheel and the merry go round, where the children can have their last fling before school begins.

There will not be an idle moment, prizes will be awarded hourly during the four days. There will be many activities. One also will have the opportunity of visiting with friends and neighbors, something one otherwise seems to find time for otherwise in this busy world.

Reports have it that there will be some good acts at the "free amateur show Friday evening. And for the many who like to watch wrestling, there will have that opportunity Saturday evening when Carl Engstrom and "Gypsy" Joe, a couple of pros, will appear, hero and villain respectively.

Free tickets for this show are had from each Tinley Park merchant.

Big Parade

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 Red Blanchard and Dolph Heyvitt will bring a pleasing entertainment and again at 8 p.m. that day.

Monday will be closing, and that day will be jammed full of excitement and fun. The big parade is unarguably the minds of the people and there have been many other communities who have indicated they will enter a float. The local stores and organizations are planning to enter floats, and it was rumored that the Shrine Club of Chicago will be in the line of march as well as put on performances at the Memorial park grounds where the festival will be held. Also in the parade will be the South Suburban Shrine club, and Mr. and Miss Tinley Park who have been chosen from the teen age group, and many, many more attractions. There will be first and second prizes given for junior and senior marching groups. First and second prizes will be awarded for floats.

The loving ones for Mr. and Miss Tinley Park and other trophies are displayed in the English Bros. garage window.

Line of March
The line of march for the parade on Monday afternoon will start at 176th street and Oak Park avenue, will go north on Oak Park ave., to 170th st., right on 170th to Elm Lane drive, south on Elm Lane drive to 171st street and Memorial Park.

Tinley Park is the place to spend the Labor Day long weekend and it seems it will be well spent when the many and varied activities are considered.

Henry Bettenhausen is the general chairman on arrangements for the festival.

Proceeds from the affair will be used to finance the community recreation program.

The law imposes upon everyone the duty of ordinary care for himself.

New Store Opens In Mokena

The Shopping Bag, which opened its doors today was a hustling, bustling place - far different than it was when this picture was taken several days ago, which just goes to show what a difference a few days can make. When this picture was taken it was early morning before workmen arrived. The only person present was Robert Porter, the photographer, and he said he wouldn't have been there either if the camera had been able to do the job alone because it was practically in the middle of the night. The picture had to be taken early, however, before the sun turned the store windows into great dazzling mirrors that would shut out everything else.

Chicago Milk Dealers To Pay Producers More

A 15-cent premium on bulk milk will be guaranteed by Chicago milk dealers.

A written agreement will be available to any dairy farmer who ships bulk milk to a Chicago dealer. It will apply until premiums equal 75 per cent of the original cost of the bulk tank plus an estimated 16 per cent for interest and carrying charges. Dairy farmers who paid cash on their tanks are also eligible to get the guarantee agreement.

The offer of the guarantee came as the result of a request by Pure Milk association to the Chicago milk dealers.

Howard Johnson, Supervisor of the PMA bulk tank program, said that now Chicago milk dealers will make the written agreement available to any dairy farmer on the market.

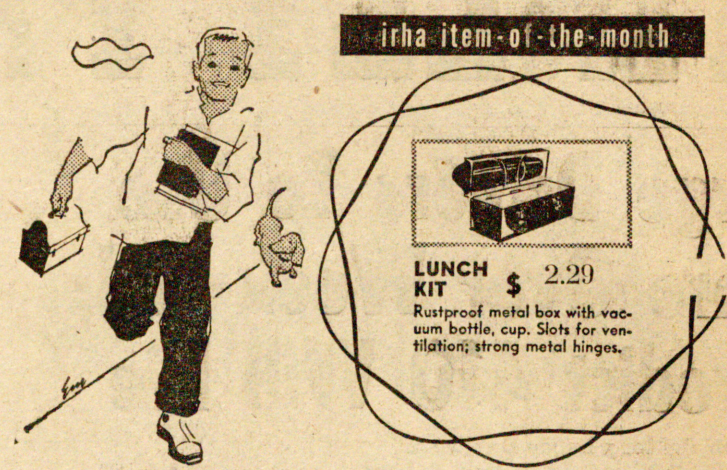

Johnson said that in many areas in the Chicago market the premium for bulk tank milk is currently 25 cents.

He credits early action by Pure Milk association with the present high premiums on bulk milk. PMA members were guaranteed a 15-cent premium for bulk milk delivered to PMA miums became an accepted part plants if premiums weren't avail- of the bulk tank system in Chi- able elsewhere. As a result, pre- cago.

HOW TO MAKE A PENCIL HOLDER

One sure way for those school youngsters of yours to keep a pencil at hand inside the cover of a notebook is to insert a rubber band through two holes punched in the cover. Notice in the drawing that the band is knotted near each end to provide loops for the pencil and also to keep the band in place. A small ruler, dividers and other school equipment can be carried in the same way. A flat rubber band is preferable to a round one for this particular purpose.

Esther Holm of Mokena, Weds Howard L. Jackson, Orland Park

Miss Esther Louise Holm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Holm of Mokena, became the bride of Howard Lee Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson of Orland Park at a double ring ceremony performed in the Immanuel Lutheran church at Mokena.

The pastor, the Rev. A. W. Gode, officiated at the nuptial vows which were held Friday evening, Aug. 19 at 7 o'clock. The altar was decorated in palms, ferns, white Glads and lighted candles.

Miss Alma Lauffer played appropriate music as the guests were assembled and also accompanied Miss Joan Pfleger when she sang, "Wedding Prayer" and "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin, lace and tulle with layers of ruffled tulle which fell from the waist in the back in a fan shape to a small train. A bluish pink skirt was beneath the ruffles. She wore a bluish pink finger-tip veil which fell from a headpiece of the same color with white pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations and her single strand of pearls was the gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Caroline Holm, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown of coral crystalline waltz-length, made in princess style, with a scooped neckline and a head piece like that of the bride's. Her flowers were yellow roses tied with yellow ribbon.

The bridesmaids were cousins of the bride and were Miss Catherine Sievert, Princeton and Miss Beverly Hill, Chicago. They were gowned identically to the maid of honor and their yellow carnations were tied with coral ribbon.

Sunny Meyers of Oak Lawn attended the groom and Don Anders, Blue Island and Jerry Okin, Oak Lawn were ushers.

The bride's mother was dressed in cornflower blue with a lace jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses. The groom's mother wore a pink lace dress and had a natural orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Holm, was a special guest.

Following the service a wedding dinner was served in the church dining room to the bridal party, the immediate family members and close relatives, by the women's society of the church. Later a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, where the decorations consisted of garden flowers. A four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served during the refreshment hours.

The couple left by motor for a trip to Maine and other eastern states and part of Canada. They will make their home tentatively with the groom's parents. For her going away attire, the bride wore a dark brown suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Jackson is employed by the Cracker Jack company in Chicago and the groom is employed with a construction company in Orland Park.

The bride, escorted by her father, was lovely in a gown of lace, ballerina length, with bodice studded with seed pearls. Her veil fell from a heart shaped lace tiara. She wore a matched set of pearl necklace and earrings. Her flowers were stephanotis and ivy with an orchid centered.

Jerry Jacobs Doing Good Job At Charleston

(Special to Tinley Park Times)
By Paul Leland

Residents of Tinley Park and Thornton alumni who can recall a wiry little infielder, namely Jerry Jacobs, who sparked Frochauer's Wildcats in the middle forties would not be too surprised that the same scrappy infielder is holding down a second base bag for the Charleston (W. Va.) Senators in the American Association's AAA circuit. Since 'Jake's' exit from the Harvey locale, bowing out with 10 athletic letters, four earned on the Buda diamond, his rise has been rapid and eventful. Under the tutelage of Leo Schriell of the Bradley Braves, Jacobs found time to earn his six 'Bs' and a most valuable player-award in foot ball (his second love) while earning his Bachelor of Arts degree. While wearing the red and gray of Peoria's Braves he was spotted by scouts of the former St. Louis Browns and immediately following graduation was swept away to Wichita in the Western league (A) for one year. After batting a rare 308, his contract holders partially fulfilled his life ambition with a six-week's stay with the Baltimore Orioles.

Has Speed
Ending his short but spectacular season with the Baltimore club the managers found an even greater potential in Jake's fielding and hustled him off to San Antonio in the Texas league for more experience in his new slot, third base.

Following the traditional spring shuffle of minor league players Jerry once again found himself at the door way to the majors. Baltimore found a gaping hole in their Charleston infield and were quick to recall Jacobs to the position. Coach Vern Rapp newly assigned pilot for the Orioles' farm team, decided Jake's speed was the ingredient lacking in the infield, and returned him to his old position, second base.

During his present stay with the Charleston Senators and his return to second Jerry has again started his upward drive. Batting a rising 292 with his eye on the old 300's Jake's veteran form has not gone unnoticed.

A recent personal interview during the club's stay at Indianapolis revealed offers for coaching positions in down state schools as well as offers for exhibition ball teams are mounting. Whatever the next year holds for Tinley Park's outstanding athlete, he will always have the personal backing of the citizens in this area. As Jerry's parents Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jacobs, 17201 67th St., have mentioned, that Jerry as a youngster has always loved athletics and his hard training and sportsman like spirit have inspired his success.

In East

Jerry Jacobs

Jerry Jacobs, who began his athletic career in Tinley Park, is playing AAA ball now in the east and many say his speed and skill will eventually land him a job in the majors.

State To Serve More Hunters

A longer open season on waterfowl and pheasants and the use of three new public shooting grounds will enable the state department of conservation to offer public hunting accommodations to 10,500 additional Illinois sportsmen this fall.

Two of the new public grounds O'Hare field just west of Chicago and a Shelby county area near Cowden, are for pheasant hunting. A new duck hunting area will be opened along the Illinois river in Marshall county south of Lacon. Altogether, there will be eight public pheasant hunting areas, five duck and two goose shooting grounds.

Duck and pheasant hunters who want permits should write, preferably on a post card, to the conservation permit office, 303 E. Monroe st., Springfield, asking for blanks. The office is being opened this week; requests may be sent in from Sept. 1 until Sept. 25.

The goose shooting grounds, which will be open from Nov. 5 to Dec. 15, are at Horseshoe lake and in Union county. They will be operated on the same plan used the last two seasons, with drawings at 6 p.m. for pits and blinds for the next day, on a first-come-first-served basis.

Bettenhausen Sets Record To Win Stock Race

Tony Bettenhausen, of Tinley Park, set a new record for the 150 mile national stock car race when it was run in Milwaukee last Thursday. He traveled the distance in 1 hour 49 minutes 52.37 seconds which was approximately nine minutes faster than the existing record, an average of 81.9 miles an hour. Naturally Bettenhausen was driving a 1955 Chrysler since he sells them at Tinley when he isn't racing.

The race at Milwaukee was run under the auspices of the American Automobile association and the event drew a gate of 17,166. Tony's victory brought him $2,115.

Second place went to Jack McGrath of South Pasadena, Cal., who was driving a 1955 Mercury. McGrath set the pace for 11 miles and was the only driver to lead Bettenhausen for as much as one lap.

Marshall Teague of Daytona Beach, Fla., was third in a 1955 Chevrolet, Walt Faulker of Long Beach, Cal., was fourth with a '55 Mercury and Bill Kearney, of Calumet City, finished fifth in a '55 Buick.

One car crashed into the wall on the south turn but the driver, Norm Nelson, of Racine, escaped injury.

Wind Up Farm Sports Festival

Farm folks from Sangamon county won the Illinois farm sports festival for the fourth straight year last Thursday. They completed the 16th annual festival at the finals in Urbana with 2,980 participation and award points, according to Roy Will, assistant secretary of the Illinois Agricultural association.

The year-long sports program is sponsored by the IAA, county farm and home bureaus, the University of Illinois, and other co-operating organizations.

The next 12 counties in the final standings, all of which will receive awards at the IAA annual meeting this November in Chicago, are:

Vermilion, 2,540; St. Claire, 2,370; Grundy, 2,060; Champaign, 2,050; Adams, 1,975; LaSalle, 1,956; Kane, 1,560; McHenry, 1,530; Iroquois, 1,435; Kankakee, 1,430; Will, 1,390; and Effingham, 1,375.

About 1,000 farm people gathered on the U. of I. campus to compete in and witness the final events of the program that began in February with folk and square dancing. Basketball, bowling, and trap and skeet shoot events were also held earlier in the year.

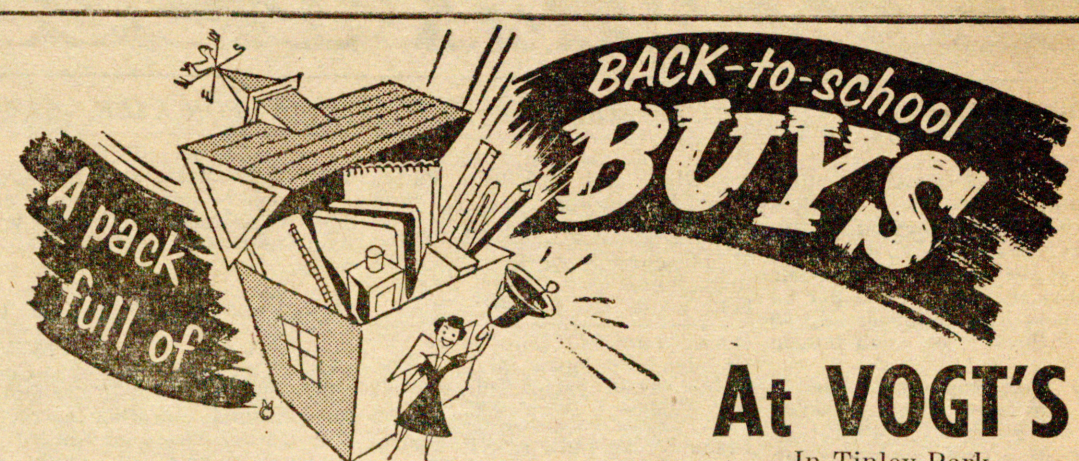

Events at the two-day finals concluded last week were 4-H physical fitness, swimming, sea-worthy tests, and softball.

St. George Keglers Open Season Tuesday

Members of St. George Bowling league will start counting their strikes and spares for real next Tuesday night at the Tinley Park lanes.

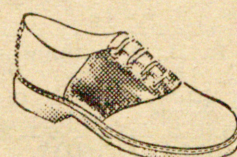

The league will begin its 1955-56 season Sept. 6, and members are asked by the loop officers to be on hand in time so they can have their shoes changes and other preliminary chores disposed of so they can begin rolling promptly at 9 o'clock.

The teddy bear was named for President Theodore Roosevelt.

Museum Tells What Would Happen If Oil Vanished

The story of what would happen in the everyday life of the nation "if oil vanished" is told in a new exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry. Presented to the Museum by the Chicago metropolitan industry oil information committee, the exhibit will become a part of the "story of oil" permanent exhibit in the museum.

In the new exhibit, which measures 12 feet high by 24 feet long, the various branches of the oil industry are represented by moving cogs, each of which in turn activates a large "industry" wheel showing applications of petroleum products in home, industry, transportation, defense and agriculture. A recorded narration, with sound effects and musical background tells a 27 minute story of how oil keeps the wheels of industry turning and what would happen "if oil vanished."

Another part of the display consists of a petroleum "tree" with the roots and stem represented by crude oil and the various branches showing the many by-products from asphalt to medicinal that are derived from petroleum refining operations.

It wasn't too hot for Mom to bake a pie tonight!

Of course not! She has a new electric range—

MR: What's her new electric range got to do with it?
MRS: Plenty! Her kitchen never gets hot—even when she does a lot of baking.
MR: Well...
MRS: And another thing... her kitchen doesn't get dirty, either. The fumes from that museum piece of ours have ruined the decorating we did this spring!
MR: But...
MRS: So if you think I'm going to spend the rest of my life in the hot stove league... well, you've got another think coming!
MR: Look, dear... if you really want a new electric range that badly, I think we can swing it. Just one thing, though...
MRS: Yes?
MR: I want blueberry pie for dessert the first night it's installed!

Keep your kitchen 10 degrees cooler with a New Electric Range

Recent impartial baking tests (made by independent engineers of the R. W. Hunt Company) prove that modern electric ranges keep your kitchen an average of 10 degrees cooler than the most modern flame-type ranges.

NEW SHARE-THE-COST INSTALLATION PLAN saves you important money. OWN AN ELECTRIC RANGE for as low as $2.16 a week —installed!

In the pre-World War I era, there were almost as many Model T jokes as there were Model T's. They were in such vogue that publishing houses printed illustrated Model T joke books. The puns invariably poked fun at his product, Henry Ford discouraged any attempt on the company's part to curb the joking. "These jokes are funny," said Mr. Ford, and "besides, good publicity." Sales of 15,456,868 Model T's proved his judgment sound.

Grant Park Concerts Attract 396,700 Persons During Summer

Music under the stars on Chicago's lake front during the summer of 1955 attracted an estimated 396,700 persons to the Grant Park concert series which ended Sunday, Aug. 14. This was the 21st consecutive season of music in the familiar bandshell in Chicago's downtown park. The season extended over eight weeks with concerts on Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays; no concert was scheduled the last Friday.

The largest attendance at a single concert was on Sunday, July 24, when 50,000 persons heard the Tchaikovsky program presented by the Grant Park symphony orchestra under the direction of Andre Kostelanetz. Four concerts with 20,000 listeners each night were recorded on July 17 when Franz Allers and the Grant Park orchestra with Brenda Lewis, as soloist, presented an all-Strauss program which included works of Oscar Strauss; on Saturday and Sunday, July 30 and 31, when Milton Katims conducted a "Pops" program with Vera Appleton and Michael Field, duo-pianists; and again on Sunday, Aug. 14, when the season closed with a concert performance of the opera "Tosca" under the direction of Joseph Rosenstock with Walma Spence, Jon Crain and Lawrence Winters of the New York City Opera company in the leading roles.

Delightful Chilly Breezes
Altho chilly breezes prevailed on the lake front the first week of the concerts, 37,500 braved the cold and heard these first four concerts. Week end concerts this year were the targets of inclement weather.

Only one concert was cancelled.

Civil War Once Came Very Near To So. Illinois

BY JOHN W. ALLEN

Southern Illinois University

The Civil War came very near to Southern Illinois. Some who visit or pass through Cairo at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers give little thought to the fact that it was a most useful and used military post during that war. It could well be termed a springboard from which some of the most significant western military expeditions were launched.

From the very beginnings of the conflict each side realized the great advantages that control of this point would afford. The Confederacy promptly assembled forces farther down the Mississippi in the spring of 1861, and began an unopposed advance northward toward the coveted point. A local company of militia met to decide upon a course of action. It was their decision to maintain an attitude of "armed neutrality." Cairo would evidently be an easy prize for the first armed forces to reach it.

The above briefly describes the situation on April 19, 1861, when Governor Yates of Illinois with full approval and even urging of the authorities at Washington asked Chicago to furnish militia to garrison Cairo. The troops requested were promptly assembled, placed on Illinois Central trains and started southward. The "Cairo Expedition" was on its way.

One company of the militia left the trains at Carbondale to guard the Illinois Central railway bridge four miles north of the town. The others continued south and were in possession of the point where the rivers joined on April 22, just three days after Gov. Yates had issued the call for troops. This was none too soon for the Confederate forces were only a few miles away.

Those first troops to reach Cairo were a militia group. The uniforms were not uniform. They were armed with assorted weapons ranging from squirrel rifles to shotguns. Other equipment was somewhat nondescript. Their training had been meager. Part of the officers among them had scant knowledge of the military. Despite these obvious deficiencies they had secured a point vital to the Union cause. In the face of their presence and the difficulty of approach to the town the Confederate forces did not attempt to seize the point. They remained in the vicinity for some time, however, as a constant threat.

Other Federal forces were dispatched to the camp. On May 10 2,700 troops had been assembled and Camp Defiance was definitely in existence. Patrols were set up along the levees on the Illinois side of both rivers. Fortifications were built along both rivers in the vicinity of the town and on the Missouri side of the Mississippi and artillery was placed to control the passage of steamboats on either river.

The principal and strongest of the forts built was the one located on the point of land where the rivers then joined. This point was then less than 100 yards from the place where the New York Central roundhouse is now located at the corner of Washington Avenue and First Street. This fort was first called Fort Prestiss for the general then commanding the camp. The name was later changed to Fort Defiance. It was a rather massive earthen fortification and was well supplied with the heaviest artillery that they could secure. It gave the Union forces full control of the rivers at their junction.

It may be an interesting sidelight to know that since 1848 a lone cannon had been located on the place where the fort was erected and had been used on special occasions to salute approaching steamers. One sizeable building also stood on the point. This was Arlen's distillery that the troops wrecked to clear the space for the fort.

General Prentiss remained in command of the camp until September 4, 1861, when General U. S. Grant took command. Grant lived at the St. Charles hotel, later to be known and to attain note as the Halliday House. A portion of the old hotel still stands a hundred yards or so north of the site the fort occupied. The military offices of Grant were located on the second floor of a stone front building still standing on Ohio Street about midway between Seventh and Eighth. It was at Cairo that Grant attracted added attention and indicated the aggressive qualities that carried him into military eminence.

Cairo's Ohio street alongside the river was once one of the busiest streets in America. It is now practically deserted and in ruins. Only at rare intervals may a large boat be seen moored at this river port that was at one time among the more important ones in the world. There is no evidence of the gunboat flotilla that lay alongside the river. A few landmarks and an occasional bronze plaque remain with the written records to indicate the town's importance as a military post during the Civil War.

Some of the romance of river days may yet be felt.

Johnnie Weissmuller at one time held every free-style swimming record.

Standing Alone

Lesson for August 14, 1955

THEN what? What happens next? What is going to happen to me if I don't do what you want? What does "or else—" mean? If the person who asks such questions doesn't get answers he likes, but goes right on in his determined way, we say he is brave. If a man does what he does when everybody else is doing it, when he gets well paid for it, praised and rewarded, we do not call that brave. But when a man does what he does knowing pretty well that he will get hurt because he does it, we call the man brave.

Two Kinds of Courage
There are two kinds of bravery or courage. One we call physical courage. The physical hero dashes into a burning building or into a swift river to save some one else at real peril to his own life. He may refuse to disclose an important secret even though he is being tortured to make him reveal it. The moral hero stands up for what he knows is right even though this makes him unpopular or ridiculous in the eyes of people whose good will he would like to keep. We might say that physical courage is determination in spite of the prospect of bodily pain; moral courage is determination in spite of the prospect of mental or spiritual pain. Sometimes the two are combined in the same act and the same person, as with Daniel in the stories assigned for this week. Moral courage being rather more unusual than physical, let us take a look at that, especially.

Ridicule
Standing with the crowd never takes courage. Standing alone against the crowd always calls for courage, no matter what the crowd is carrying. Are they picking up stones? Then facing them calls for physical courage. Are they laughing their heads off? Then facing church at all. The whole story of Ezra and Nehemiah, the prophecies of Haggai and of Zechariah, show us that there were great masses of indifferent people in Judea after the "Return" and the restoration of the worship at the high altar in Jerusalem. There were the same difficulties with a building program that we have; preaching fell on many a deaf ear, just like now. Worship is now, and has always been, carried on, in the true sense, not by the masses but by a nucleus of devoted men and women.

The Opposition
The Jews who returned to Palestine to get their religion organized and under way again, with public services and all, found out another thing which we Americans might as well learn, indeed, we have learned it. That is, not only is there indifference to religion, but it has many enemies. It is nothing but prettified nonsense to suppose that everybody in the world means well, that we all desire the welfare of society. It is contrary to the facts to believe that even those who do not worship with us and will not join us nevertheless wish us well. Don't deceive yourself. There are in America, as there are everywhere, people who are "plain mean."

There are businesses that injured people, businesses that contribute to crime, indeed some businesses that even a not-too-moral police force labels as crime. Those who live by the profits of these enterprises just hate the church; let's face it.

Can Government Help?
Now in ancient Palestine, say Zechariah's time, not to mention earlier times, church and state helped and supported each other. King and high priest might even be related. Especially after the Exile, church and state became practically one. In our free America—and we would not wish it unfree, for a moment—can the government do anything to help the church? Readers who belong to Sunday school classes can start a very interesting discussion by asking that question. How can Government help the church? Ought Government to try to help us? One way, surely, by which the State can aid the church, is by laws which will keep the Lord's Day free, so far as possible, from work-day necessities. Another way is by setting an example. When leaders in government set an example of sharing in the public and private worship of God, the nation is all the better for it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The way of health and holiness, of dominion over fear and sin which Christ Jesus came to teach, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, Aug. 28.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include the Master's healing of the servant of the high priest as recorded in Luke's Gospel (22:50,51): "And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (54:10-17): "That he might liberally pour his dear-bought treasures into empty or sin-filled human storehouses, was the inspiration of Jesus' intense human sacrifice. In witness of his divine commission, he presented the proof that Life, Truth, and Love heal the sick and the sinning, and triumph over death through Mind, not matter. This was the highest proof he could have offered of divine Love."

Funeral Services For Alvin Voss, 52 Held in Joliet

Funeral services for Alvin Voss, 52, who died suddenly at his home in Joliet last Thursday morning, were held Saturday afternoon at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Joliet, with burial in Elmhurst cemetery.

He was born at Spencer, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Voss, and at the time of his death was assistant shipping clerk at the Hacker Mill and Lumber Co., where he has been employed for the past 32 years. Mr. Voss was the victim of a sudden heart attack. An inhalator squad from the Joliet fire department worked for 25 minutes in an effort to revive him.

Besides his wife, the former Jeanette Reiss, Mr. Voss is survived by two brothers, Arthur W. and Edward, of Joliet; one sister, Mrs. Lydia Schmitt, of Joliet; two stepbrothers, William Brookman of Manhattan and Henry Brookman of Frankfort, and three sisters, Miss Ida Brookman of Joliet, Mrs. John Bauch of Green Garden and Mrs. William Schoen of Frankfort.

In 1954, 2,500 community agencies, including hospitals and homes for the aged, received health and welfare services from Red Cross volunteer service groups.
